CLASS HISTORY

One fine, warm September morning in 1938, our mothers scrubbed our little faces and sent us—sweet, wide-eyed, innocent, little children that we were—to our first day of school. Helen Branson, Lorraine Caspers, Mary Janet Clay, Dick Claypool, Joyce Cocking, Delores Colby, Verna Garrison, Lorraine Gutz, Jerry Miller, Rita Murphy, Tony Perez, JoAnne Rathman, Betty Scantlebury, Dorothy Schlomer, La-Verne Sheeler, Jane Stockberger, Max Wilson, Larry Windelow were the members of the class of 1951 who started together in Hampton. A May Day party for the little ones who would start school the next year climaxed kindergarten.

We returned the next year as experienced and worldly first graders. That year we took into our happy midst Darlene Baldwin, Doris Knueppel, Audrey McAfee, Lucille Moore, Kathryn Patton, and Lowell Stock.

Second grade passed quickly as we learned to write "like big people". Though the war had begun, world problems didn't interest our bright little third grade, especially when we had our own smash-hit play about pioneers and Indians and our new classmate, Marlene Dreyer, to think about.

Then came the big day when at last as imperious fourth graders, we could climb the long creaking stairs to the second floor (after all only very grown up and important people could go to school on the second floor!) Among these lucky ones were two new faces—Orin Johnson and Marian Richtsmeier. Fifth grade added two more—Bill Miller and Bob Pralle.

Sixth grade put us in that most coveted position at the head of the stairs with the whole class together at last, and with three teachers —just like the big kids!! Dick Claypool returned after spending two years in Sheffield; Darlene Diekman, Doug Nelson, and Ann Geddes also joined us that year of the stupendous grade school operetta.

Junior high marked our exit from the world of children, and the end of the war made us expect peace. We entered happily into seventh grade with our first dances, geography class, and the entrance of Harold Nelson. Eighth grade was an even greater advancement. That year we gained Joe Pitsor, wrote our first "S.A.'s", and most wonderful of all—graduated from junior high in a ceremony complete with a speaker and diplomas. We were really grown up that day—even more like the big kids.

But the Honorable Seniors put us through our paces the next fall as bewildered Freshmen singing "I'm so fresh, I'm so green," for initiation. Lulah Alert, Phyllis Berk, Dale Furman, Phyllis Grabbe, Lillian Janssen, Marlys Lehmann, Norma Muhlenbruch, Joyce Sorensen, Joanne Sporleder, and Marian Timmerman were the lucky ones who joined our little band this year of elementary algebra.

However, as sophisticated Sophomores, battling world history and plane geometry with our two new members, Don Krukow and Elaine Rasmussen, we thought we really knew our way around the high school.

Our Junior year brought the excitement of the class play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay." And the admission of Jim Balkema, Ethel Bonjour, and Marilee Fisher supplied some welcome new talent to the class. The theme of the Junior-Senior Prom was the "1950 Global Excursion."

And then that year of years—the big kids—Seniors at last. We tried not to think too much of war, but several who had been in our class found themselves in uniform. Fran Emmerich came this last year to fill out the class role to 51 in '51, (but with a ratio of three girls to every boy). We more than kept ourselves busy with the million things that Seniors have to do—the class play, "Little Women", the term papers of English IV, and the senior drive. Thirteen years tamed us down a little: we were older and wiser, as then we looked out into an adult world, hoping that we could do as well there as we had in school.

SENIORS

LULAH ALERT
Studies never
Daunt this lass..
With little effort,
She leads the class.

DARLENE BALDWIN
Enjoy your life
Before it's fled,
For when you die,
You're a long time dead.

JAMES BALKEMA
Not really quiet,
But not very loud,
Just a swell guy,
Whose friends round him crowd.

PHYLLIS BERK
Happy she is
And free from care.
Too bad others
Aren't like her there.

ETHEL BONJOUR
Here's one gal
Who will not shun,
When given work
She sees it's done.

HELEN BRANSON
Like the Royal Mounties,
Helen can—
No matter what—
"Get her man."

LORRAINE CASPER
Happy-go-lucky,
Fair and free,
There is nothing
That bothers me.

MARY JANET CLAY
With a "situation"
Her head's with the planets.
Still lots of fun
Is blond Mary Janet.

RICHARD CLAYPOOL
Good-natured Dick
Has a presidential air.
This talent he has
Is really quite rare.

JOYCE COCKING
Tall, stately Joyce
Enjoys a good chat.
She'll talk about anything—
Of this or of that.

DELORES COLBY
She's quite a gal
We've heard it said.
Her goal in life
Is to be wed.

DARLENE DIEKMAN
A cute little chick
With lots of class,
Wherever she goes,
She's sure to pass.

MARLENE DREYER
Her heart is always
Young and gay;
She's happy throughout
every day.

FRAN EMMERICH
Her inner quality
That many admire
Is to be good-willed—
That's her greatest desire.

MARILEE FISHER
Peppy, witty,
Full of fun.
Give her work,
And it gets done.

CLASS OF 1951

DALE FURMAN
Good-natured and cheery
Describes this guy.
You've seen him and his car
Go whizzing by!

VERNA MAE GARRISON
I think twice
And then don't speak.
Happiness is the goal
That I seek.

MARY ANN GEDDES
To know her
Is to love her;
We place no one
Above her.

PHYLLIS GRABBE
Cute, peppy,
Mighty neat,
Intelligent,
And mighty sweet.

LORRAINE GUTZ
"Thinking of you"
Is her theme.
Rayne's always
In a dream.

PAUL HANSEN
Quiet, reserved,
He doesn't stand out.
He'd rather be silent,
And not cause a "bout."

LILLIAN JANSSEN
A quiet lass,
There are but few
Who know the treasures
Hid in you.

ORIN JOHNSON
"Satchell" Johnson,
So they say,
Has so much "it,"
We call it "they."

DORIS KNUEPPEL
As a person, she's swell,
And she has the 'know'
To make things click
With her 'get-up and go.'

DONOVAN KRUKOW
"What is it
You want to know?
Hmm . . . just a minute
While I ask Joe."

MARLYS LEHMANN
This tall, friendly gal
Who's from the farm
Will get your vote
For being swell, by darn!

AUDREY McAFEE
What a girl
Is our girl "Mac."
She's without equal
From Boston and back.

BILLY MILLER
Let every man
Enjoy his whim,
What's he to me,
Or I to him?

JERRY MILLER
Another guy who wants
To sail across
With Uncle Sam
As his 'big boss.'

LUCILLE MOORE
Quiet, helpful,
Sweet, sincere,
Lucy's such
A little dear.

SENIORS

NORMA MUHLENBRUCK
Norma's sweet,
Quite a chick, besides.
But she can wait—
Her time she bides.

RITA MURPHY
Gentle-tempered,
Kind is "Reet."
She's the kind
You like to meet.

DOUGLAS NELSON
"Chase me, girls.
I'm full of fun."
Poor Doug is always
On the run.

HAROLD NELSON
This friendly guy
(We call him 'Gus')
In later years
Will mean lots to us!

KATHRYN PATTON
Sweet and kind,
She's quite a gal—
The type you'd like
To be your pal.

TONY PEREZ
Hot shot Tony,
Give him time—
Football's not
His only line.

JOE PITSOR
The wrestling holds
Of which we're fond,
We practice together—
That is, me and Don.

ROBERT PRALLE
Oh, my gosh!
My goodness me!
Sat up all night
And it dawned on me!

ELAINE RASMUSSEN
Bouncing Elaine—
Wherever she goes—
Is the life of the party,
As everyone knows.

JOANNE RATHMAN
Dark of hair,
Fair of face,
Loaded with talent,
Wit and grace.

MARIAN RICHTSMEIER
Always friendly
With everyone,
Marian is
Lots of fun.

BETTY SCANTLEBURY
It can be said
That her beauty and grace
Will put her far
At the front of the race.

DOROTHY SCHLOMER
Not too timid,
Not too bold,
Just the kind
You'd like to hold.

LaVERNE SHEELER
Co-captain of our Football team—
Verne is always
On the beam.

JOYCE SORENSEN
She's our queen,
Who's really fine!
She'll go places—
Just give her time.

CLASS OF 1951

JOANNE SPORLEDER
She looks at him
Then says, "You-all"
Then claims she has
No southern drawl.

LOWELL STOCK
Come spring
And graduation day
My motto will be
"Anchors Away."

JAYNE STOCKBERGER
"Late to bed,
Late to rise,
Leads to lots of
Little white lies."

MARIAN TIMMERMAN
Majestic and poised.
Tall and slim.
Take one look—
It's our girl, "Tim."

MAX WILSON
With us from the start
With us at the finish
Thru the years, our tho'ts
Of him will not diminish.

LARRY WINDELOW
Full of fun,
And full of vigor,
Larry likes

HAMPTONITES CONGREGATE

Chicago, Ill. (FEP)—This article is brought to you through the amalgamated services of the famed FEP, whose head is the former Frances Emmerich, of Hampton, Iowa. Frances started as a newspaper reporter and worked her way up the ladder, meanwhile marrying a newspaper publisher.

The first event on the day's agenda was a speech by the honorable Jo Anne Rathman, who has the distinction of being the first woman ever to become president. After her speech she joined in the festivities of the crowd.

During the evening, Darlene Baldwin, the Faye Emerson of the new decade, in her new low-cut gown, acted as mistress of ceremonies on a television show, in which she interviewed all the Hamptonites congregated there.

The program was sponsored by Kathryn Patton and husband who own the Sudsy-Dudsy Soap Company. The commercial, written especially for the occasion by the world famous musician and composer, Marlys Lehmann, was warbled in the golden tones of Darlene Diekman.

The music for the commercial (Sudsy your dudsies with Sudsy-Dudsy; Sudsy your auto, your house, and your lot; your dogsy and catsy, too!!—And remember Sudsy-Dudsy comes in six different flavors . . . . And they are mild!) was provided by Delores Colby, her band and her clarinet.

Although Mary Janet Clay is now a well-known vocalist, she consented graciously to sing with Delores' band. The hit of the evening was M. J.'s tender rendition of "I've got tears in my ears from lying on my back in my bed while I cry over you."

Three titles were presented to Hamptonites. The first was to Bugs Pralle, who won the coveted "Liars of America" prize for his fantastic sport stories. The second was to Tony Perez, who was named Mr. America of 1961, and Phyllis Grabbe, who, receiving her award at the same time, was named Mrs. America.

Another celebrity present was Daredevil Dick Claypool, whose interest in safe driving led him to be a hot-rod racer.

Doug Nelson, recently graduated from law school, arrived with his first client—Max Wilson, who had stolen forty winks from a tiddly-wink factory.

Lillian Janssen and Marlene Dreyer were interviewed next. They informed us that their poultry business was doing very well, and Verna Mae Garrison, who came with them, announced that her business—dog kennels—was also doing wonderfully well.

Just then Delores came on stage and announced to her old classmates that their old friend, Helen Branson, was sorry that she was unable to attend, but she could get no baby-sitter to stay home with her triplets.

Jerry Miller, however, returned from an extended expedition in South America, where he had been collecting leopard steaks which he planned to market in his own butcher shop.

Norma Muhlenbruch also was returning from a hunting expedition—in New York. What it was she was hunting, she neglected to mention.

To add to the cultural value of the show, Lucille Moore, now a head of the deparment of English at Yale University, where she specializes in teaching Chaucer and Shakespeare, gave quotations from both these men's works.

Marian Timmerman is now a drum manufacturer and has all her drums tested by her husband before marketing them.

Don Krukow, comedian of stage, screen, and radio, livened up the show by making wisecracks, and frequently using the words he made famous—"Who? Me?"

Also in the movies is Lowell Stock, who was able to walk to the stage only after thousands of screaming bobby-soxers had swooned at his feet.

Mrs. Oscar Van Portlybilt, nee Lorraine Ann Gutz, of the Hampton Gutz's, appeared with her bald, wealthy, and elderly husband. Rayne and Oscar are prominent now in New York society, where he is a stockbroker.

And speaking of husbands, Paul Hansen, we find, over the years has become a typical hen-pecked husband.

Lorraine Casper was unable to get away from the hospital where her duties as head nurse kept her busy, or so Betty Scantlebury told us. Betty is now head accountant for the Green Owl Cigar Company, which recently went bankrupt.

Word was received by Marian Richtsmeier —head clerk in the bargain basement at Bimbel's Department Store—that Ethel Bonjour would not be able to make the trip from Afghanistan, where, after ten long years of hardship and struggle in the Women's Marine Corps, she has attained the rank of Second Lieutenant.

The next person interviewed was Elaine Rasmussen. Elaine has recently expanded her chain of salons, in which she specializes in the art of massage, from coast to coast.

Also in the line of women's beauty aids was a convention of hair tint companies—represented by Dorothy Schlomer, inventor of new shades of dyes for the tresses, and by Jayne Stockberger, head of the Peachy Bleach Company.

Dale Furman, head of his own trucking firm, provided the transportation for many of the Hamptonites.

Joyce Sorenson attended also, bringing along her controlling interest in the Staley Feed Mill.

Marilee Fisher, understudy to Marjorie Main, sat in one corner of the lobby autographing her latest book—a collection of 500 puns, wise-cracks, and corny jokes.

In the other corner of the lobby sat Doris Knueppel, who holds B.S., M.S., and Ph.D. degrees, also autographing books—her latest is a medical text book. Doris plans to conduct her famous Knueppel Report again this year.

Ann Geddes is inventing a typewriter for Doris to use on her next book. This typewriter has no keys, no back-spacer, and no platen, but she's sure that with Doris's ingenuity, she can easily figure it out.

Harold Nelson is now a big executive—he's the third vice-president to the fourth vice-president of the Shropshire Sheep Raisers Association.

Next was Jim Balkema, an electrical engineer, who provided the "spark" to the whole affair.

Phyllis Berk and Audrey McAfee came sauntering up to the stage with their mink stoles, flashing diamonds, and clothes modeled after the latest Parisian styles. They informed us that they had gone to the big city to become private-secretaries and while there had been "discovered". They are now famous high fashion models.

Later when Larry Windelow saw Phyd and Mac, he tried to convince them that they should go back to Saudi-Arabia (where Larry, who is an important sultan over there, maintains a harem).

Kita Murphy, who owns and operates the famed Rita Peteeta Hair Stylists Beauty Salon, where the hair stylists themselves come to get their hair fixed in the latest coiffures designed by Kita.

Billy Miller, the world's greatest automobile manufacturer, was able to drop in for a few minutes after the world premiere of his new car—the sensational "Millard".

Joe Pitsor, still in his purple dressing gown, and LaVerne Sheeler elbowed their way through the crowd to the television cameras, amid the screaming of ardent fans. Joe had just finished a wrestling match with Handsome Harry, in which he was victorious. LaVerne was recently named the most sensational "pro" football star of the year.

Lulah Alert had to sneak in the back way to avoid Joyce Cocking, head of the Senate Investigating Committee, who suspects Dr. Alert of divulging the secrets of the H-bomb.

The former Joanne Sporleder recently returned from a voyage in the ocean liner HHS, of which her husband is head officer.

Also unable to attend was Satch Johnson, the fabulously wealthy New York play-boy, who was in Europe adding to his string of polo-ponies.

Everyone regretted the fact that some of their fellow Hamptonites couldn't be there, but they had a good time anyway. And after the last strains of the commercial died away, everyone stood up and sang, "In the Cellars of Old Hampton Hi" . . .

ATHLETICS

FOOTBALL

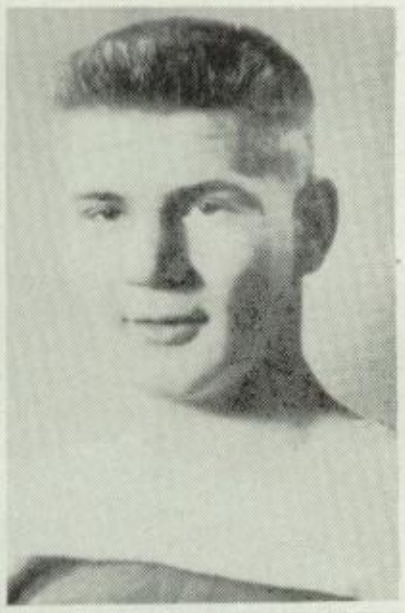
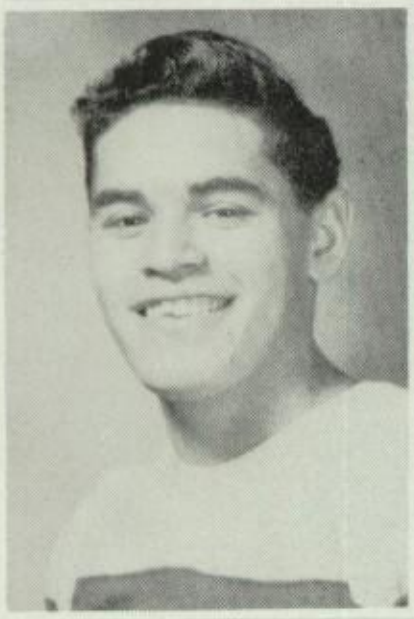
LaVerne Sheeler

Co-captain, fullback; "Iron Horse" earned a place on the second all-conference team.



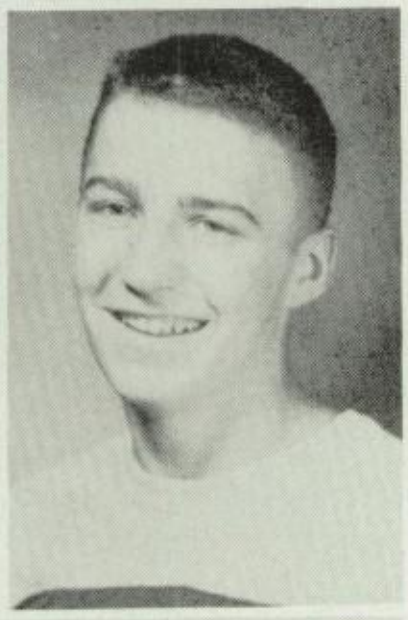
Orin Johnson

"Satch," co-captain, provided dynamite in the center of the line—also placed on the second all-conference team.



Tony Perez

"Sam" was outstanding on the field as fullback and halfback.

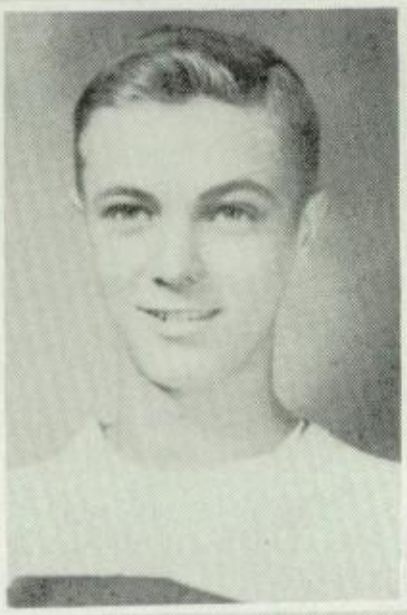


Robert Pralle

"Bugs" really tackled the situation.

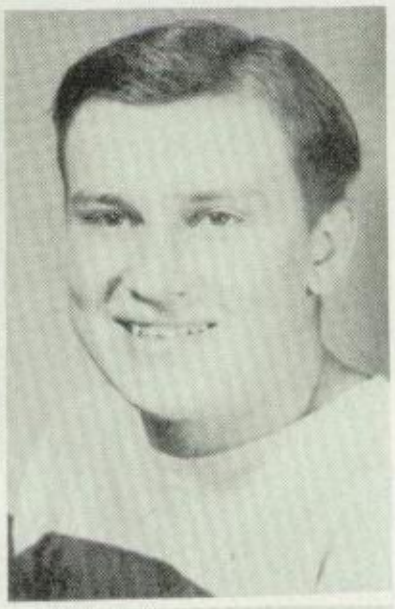
Alvin Simons

Our heavyweight tackle—"Moose" really laid them flat.



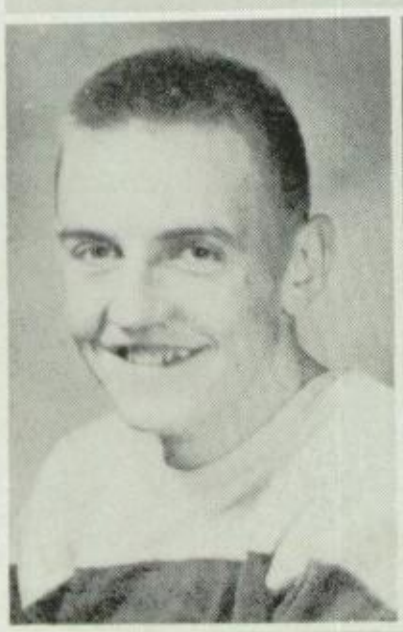
Doug Nelson

The brains were provided by "Dog-breath" who held the quarterback position.



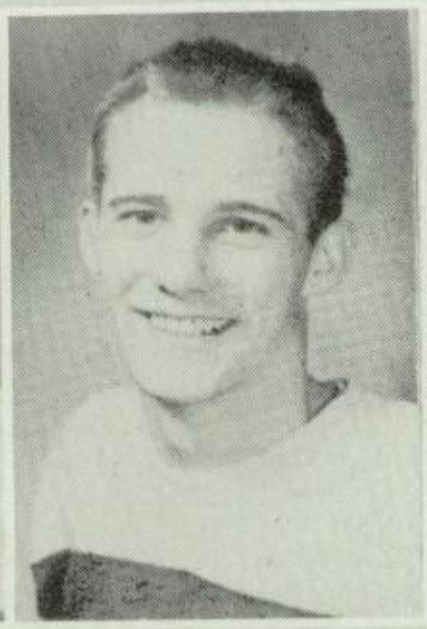
Dwight Dreyer

"Whitey" did a fine job as both offensive and defensive tackle.



Konrad Kannenberg

"Cannonball" saw some action in center position.



Lowell Stock

At halfback he's really a "Star."

Eldon Libby

"Smiley," a good reliable end—both defensive and offensive player.

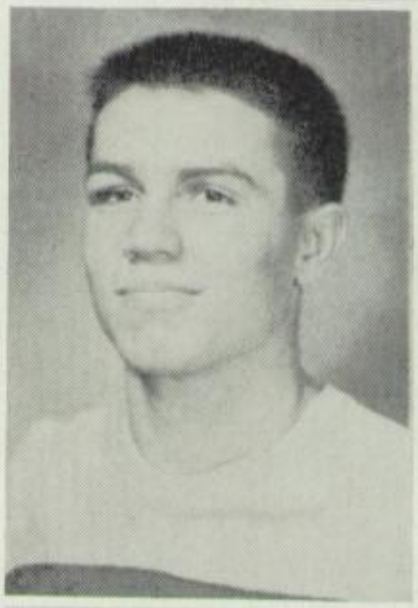
As a guard he's really "The Demon"— So good he placed on the first all-conference team.

Joe Pitsor

"Little Paul" proved his mettle in both the fullback and end positions—earned honorable mention as end.

Paul Schipper

"Speed Merchant" sold us on his abilities as a halfback.

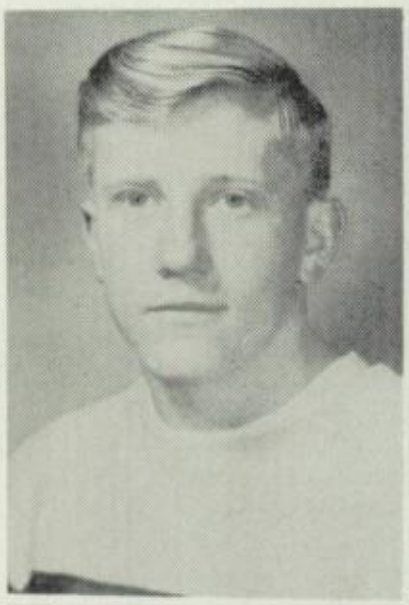


Jim Staley

"Dittmer" made a fine showing as a guard this year.

Richard Dreyer

"Choo-Choo" got all steamed up over his job as guard.



Robert Heilskov

A good all-around player—"Blondie" played both end and tackle.

Robert Bruns

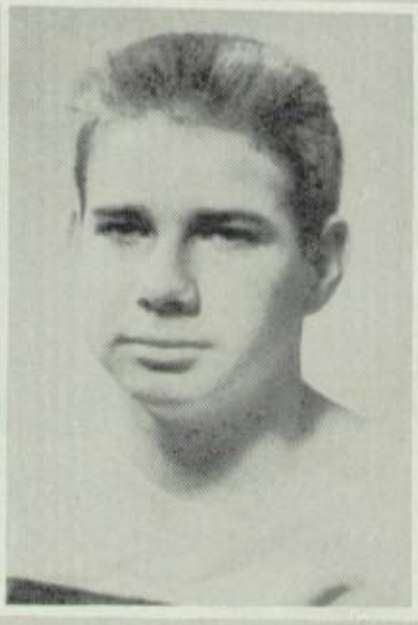
"Chugger" provided a good substitute tackle.

Dale Furman

A good pass receiver—Spike made a fine showing in his first year on the varsity squad.

Gordon Jones

"Little Moo," following in his big brother's footsteps, is doing a fine job at end.



Lee Heins

One of the two freshman letter winners. "Rastus" showed good promise in the halfback position.

FOOTBALL SEASON

At the start of the season Hampton was picked to place sixth in the conference. This was because only five lettermen were returning, and the team lacked experience. However, what the team lacked in experience was made up by will power and determination, as well as by excellent coaching. Consequently, at the end of the season, Hampton jumped to a surprising but impressive third place.

The Hampton grid machine won its opening game by defeating Ackley, 26-6. Probably one of the best games of the season was the one in which Hampton defeated Algona, 12-0, on a hail-riddled and muddy field. Other outstanding contests were the Webster City thriller, which Webster took by one point, and the last two of the season in which Hampton triumphed over Clarion and Clear Lake. These last two games clearly showed the improvement and development of the team.

All in all, both spectators and players were well satisfied with the accomplishments of the team and hope that next year's team may have as good, or a better, record.

TOURNAMENT

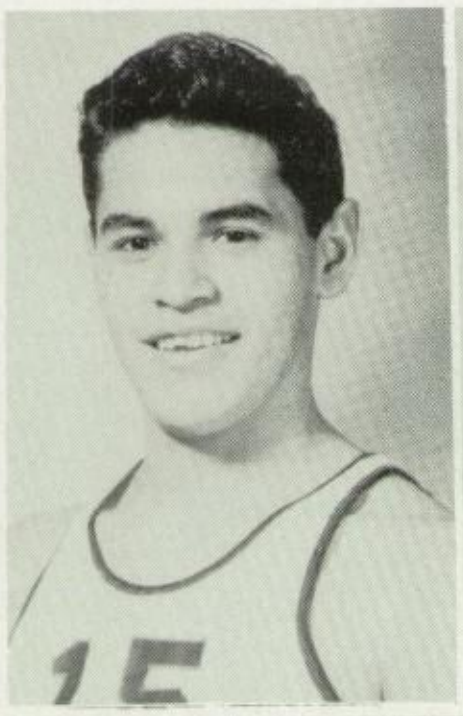
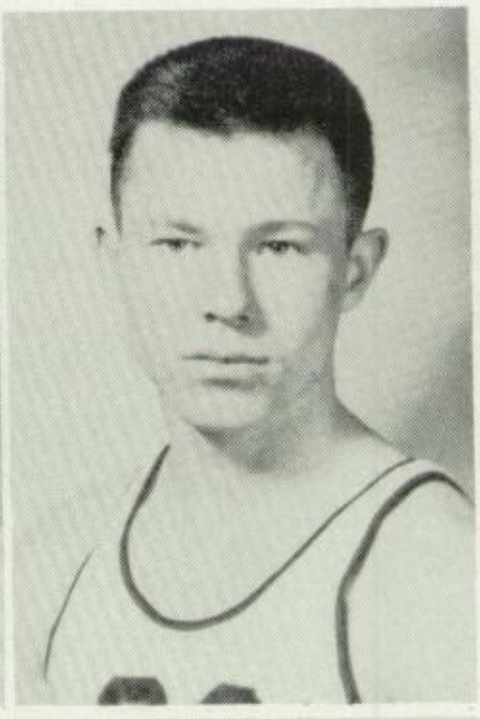
Tony—Captain, always calm and collected, an excellent ball handler.



Tony Perez



Eldon Libby

Eldon—a set shot artist; good all around player.

Gordon—an excellent shot, good ball handler.

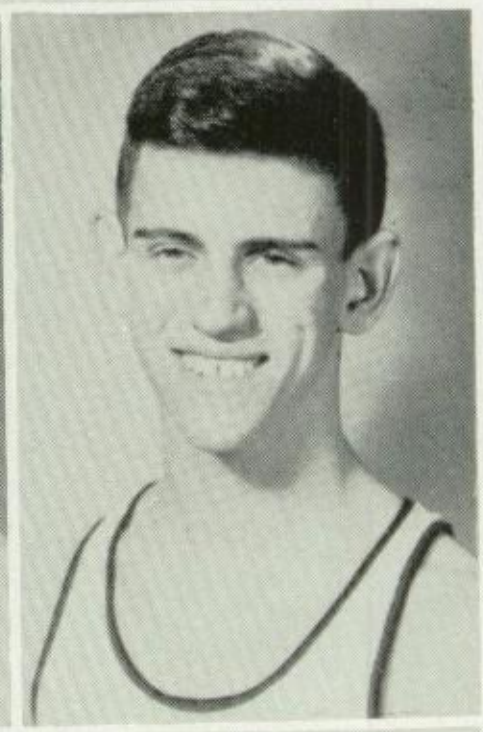
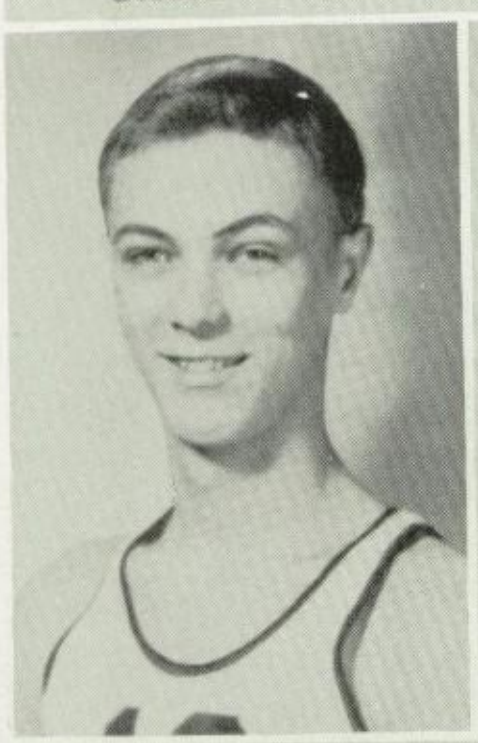
Gordon Jones



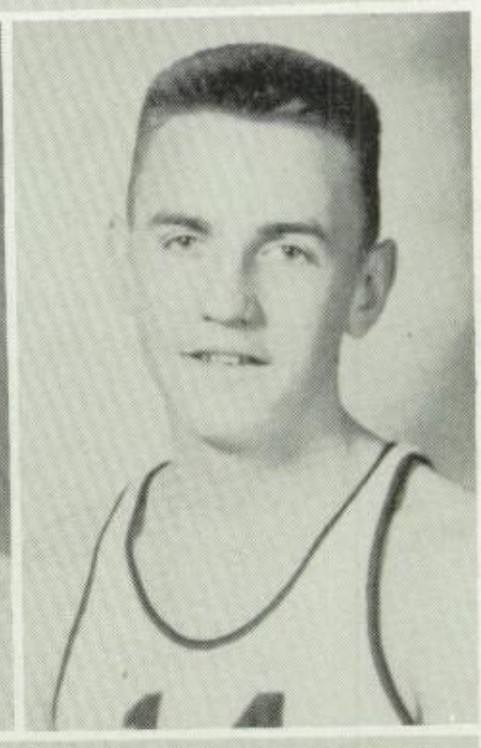
Hal Purcell

Hal—good material for next year, a good little fighter.

Doug—one of two seniors on the squad a reliable substitute.



Doug Nelson



Konrad Kannenberg

Konrad — always there when we need him.

BASKETBALL SEASON

Einstein wrote the famous equation $E=MC^2$; Cheeley wrote one just as famous, G+E+S=V or in other words, Greenhorns plus experience plus scrap equals victory. That was the case of this year's basketball team. Last November the call to all aspirants went out. The answer came in two notables, Paul Schipper and Tony Perez. The rest was "scrap". But what came of that team is well worth noting.

The season was fair, many good spots, numerous rough ones. We defeated top teams and lost to top teams. At the end of the season we stood tied for fourth place with Webster City in the Conference standings. We had won 5 Conference games and lost the same number.

Probably our best showing in the season's play was the defeating of Webster City by a score of 56 to 27. It was a great game for Hampton fans as we downed the team who had previously beaten us. Another good game was the win over Algona here. Algona ended up third in the conference. Clear Lake, a team we twice defeated in the same number of tries, ended up second in the conference.

However the great thrill to coach, player, supporter, and spectator came in post season play. We breezed our way through the sectionals by defeating St. Joe of Mason City. Then came the district tourney at Iowa Falls, where we downed both Grundy Center and Eldora to earn our way to the Sub State tourney at Waterloo in the Hippodrome. We met Teachers College High School in the first game there and went on to victory in an overtime. Then came the game! After climbing to the sub-state finals, where only 10 A teams in the entire state are left we met Waverly in the most exciting game of the year. We started off with a bang and took the lead early in the game and held it until the last quarter when Waverly took over for the win —46-44. It was a heartbreaker, a hair raiser, or call it what you will.

However, it was also history making. This was the SECOND time in the history of HHS that any team had won its way to the sub-state finals. Yes, we had now tied the record of any team and had come so near to beating it. In fact in field goals we outscored the opponent by two, but free throws spelled the difference, as they counted for six more than we.

More honor came as Paul Schipper was chosen (by a unanimous vote) to the center spot on the all-conference first team and Tony Perez named to the second.

WRESTLING SEASON

Although the wrestling squad as a team did not have an outstanding season, there were many good individual matches. As the season progressed, Hampton became more experienced and improved remarkably. One of the many good matches was the one in which Joe Pitsor decisioned Ralph Riecks, state champion at 135, 7 to 3. In a tough district meet, LaVerne Sheeler advanced to the finals. Because most of the boys will be back next year, the team should be considerably stronger.

ORGANIZATIONS

PEP SQUAD

The Pep Squad is composed of six girls elected from each of the four classes and the six cheerleaders are chosen by the student body.

Throughout the year the Pep Squad endeavors to stimulate school spirit with pep meetings and clever skits. They have performed at the halves of basketball games, and have made up the nucleus of our cheering section at all football and basketball games.

We must not forget the dances which Pep Squad has sponsored after various athletic events, for we are sure a good time was had by all. Also, the girls held their annual Christmas invitational on the evening of December nineteenth, the theme being, "Winter Wonderland."

CHEERLEADERS

Phyllis Grabbe, Phyllis Behn, Jo Rathman, Joyce Sorenson, Neva Davis, Pat Beemer

Our six cheerleaders are elected at the beginning of the school year. Try outs, in which all students interested in cheerleading may participate, are held before the high school assembly. The entire student body then chooses the six girls whom they want to lead them in team support for the coming year.

New color and vitality were added this year when the girls substituted new red and black circular skirts for their outdated red pleated outfits.

Hampton competed in the Iowa Forensic League and the Iowa High School Speech Association. Our entry in the one-act play division was "The Lost Kiss." Participants in other fields were Joanne Sporleder—Radio Speaking; Marilee Fisher—Original Oratory; Joyce Cocking—Extemporaneous Speaking; Diane Harrison and Jo Rathman—Interpretative Reading. Contests were held at Iowa Falls, Northwood, Oelwein, Dubuque and Iowa City.

1. Maybe she needs me more than Pierrot.
2. But I tell you I didn't kiss anybody.
3. Pierrette—my dear Pierrette—I—I—
4. I wonder what will happen this time.

JUNIOR HIGH

FACULTY

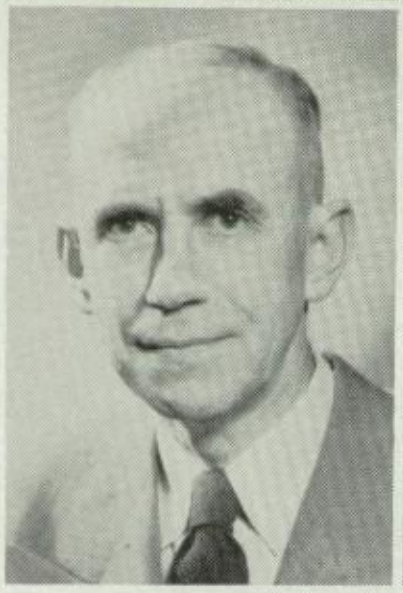
The junior high principal is MR. A. T. STEWART from Bristow. He has his B. A. from ISTC and has done post graduate work at SUI. He teaches science and says his hobby is fishing although he's "not very good at it."

MR. LOYD JOHNSON, who teaches seventh and eighth grade math, is from Coon Rapids. He holds a B. A. degree from Simpson College and is working on his master's at Iowa State College. His hobbies include sports and music.

"Students are the most interesting people there are," was the observation made by MR. HAROLD MOTT, who coaches wrestling, as well as teaching junior high math, spelling, history and science. Mr. Mott received his B. A. degree at ISTC. In his spare time he likes to hunt and fish.

Next to math and science, Holstein cattle are MR. P. T. KIES' main interests. His hometown is Burlington, and he attended Central Wesleyan College, at Warranton, Missouri, and graduated from Iowa State College.



MISS HELEN PINK left Iowa for Montana once, but decided Iowa is the place to be. Her hometown is Buffalo Center, and she attended ISTC, SUI, and Colorado U. She likes horseback riding—perhaps a carry-over from those Montana days.

Seventh and eighth grade English and spelling are taught by MISS DONNA MOONEY from Waverly. She got her B. A. from Mundelein in Chicago. She likes writing short stories and reading.

MR. CLARENCE SCHMINKE has been almost as busy coaching junior high basketball this year as he has been with his English, history, and driver's training. But, of course, sports are his hobby so he doesn't complain. He attended Coe College, and ISTC where he received his degree.

The Junior High has really been busy this year with music, sports, trips, and parties. This fall the science classes made a trip to the Maytag plant, and the civics classes visited the courthouse to see the voting apparatus and the courtroom. The eighth grade English classes worked together on a magazine which includes sports, manners, trips, parties, and pictures, for the graduating group. They also competed in the "I Am An American" contest sponsored by the V.F.W. This spring the eighth graders bought class pins—HJHS in gold with a '51 guard and chain.

The two classes worked together on the biggest production of the year—their operetta, "Tom Sawyer". The show was a big success under the direction of Miss Dudley, Miss Mooney, and Mr. Schminke. Seventh and eighth grades also combined to present their Christmas cantata, "Star of the Nativity"; just before vacation they went carolling the shut-ins. The English classes wrote short stories and poems, and the Junior High has its section in the "Bulldog's Bark" each week. Although this has been a very busy year for both seventh and eighth grades, it has been quite successful.

And it's a right to the jaw!

Dean of the daredevils

The freshmen singing to the tune of "We are poor little freshmen who are very green, boo-hoo-boo-hoo-boo-hoo," spent an enjoyable day performing for the "honorable" seniors, faculty, and lower classmen. The highlight of the day was the annual "mix" at which the freshmen soon felt no more bewildered than the rest of their new high school classmates. This year's hand-shake marathon was again a start on the new scholastic year.

HOMECOMING

Come on Hampton let's go!

Humboldt's burning.

Homecoming festivities began on the evening of October 12th with the amual snake dance and an outdoor pep rally climaxed by hurling the dummy into the roaring flames of the ceremonial bonfire. The pre-game parade, held the following afternoon, proved to be a rousing sendoff for a very hard fought game.

With the half-time period came the moment of anticipation—the crowning of the Homecoming queen. With the band playing a fanfare salute the float carrying the queen candidates advanced onto the field. Superintendent Briggs crowned Joyce Sorensen Homecoming Queen of 1950. Her attendants were Lorraine Casper, Lorraine Gutz, Phyllis Grabbe and Dorothy Schlomer.

Following the game a dance was held in the high school gymnasium with the newly crowned queen and her attendants reigning over the festivities.
